'Victimised' councillor quits party

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

THE Labour Party in Milton Keynes has been accused of bullying, intimidation and victimisation.

City councillor Liz Campbell has quit the party saying she will sit as an independent for her Denbigh ward on MK Council.

Cllr Campbell sent an e-mail to Labour group leader Norman Miles on Friday, copied to all councillors, outlining her reasons for resigning the party whip.

The 40-year-old mother of four, whose seat does not come up for re-election until 2012, also sits on West Bletchley Council.

She claims 'bullying and intimidation by some Labour Party members' made her ill last year.

She accuses the local party of excluding her from meetings and for being victimised after whistle blowing.

Labour Party organiser Kevin Wilson said the resignation is deliberately timed to inflict maximum damage.

A member of the Labour party since she was 24, she has represented three different wards on Milton Keynes Council for the last ten years.

She told MK NEWS: "I've been victimised because I raise public interest issues. They say I haven't been doing any work but I've been speaking to residents and highlighting concerns. I have loved being a councillor and my work won't change one iota. I think it can be a very tough environment when you've got children and for women in general."

The Labour party dismiss claims of bullying or victimisation.

Mr Wilson said: "I absolutely refute any suggestion of any bullying whatsoever. On the contrary, Liz has been personally supported by myself, Norman and colleagues when she wasn't attending council meetings or anything else because we recognised she'd got serious personal problems.

"Our view is that this is either deliberately timed to inflict the most political damage possible or she continues to be as unwell as she has been for a considerable amount of time. She has let the electors of Denbigh down. If she had guts at all she would offer her resignation from the council. After everything we've done to support her, this is the way she's decided to show thanks.

"The accusation of bullying beggars belief."

Cllr Miles said: "The group's done everything we can to support her. We did our best to support her by leaving her alone when requested and then trying to reintegrate her into the council.

"But her attendance has been thin - she's either left early or not turned up for meetings. As for bullying, many members of the group have tried hard to help Liz including myself, so that can't possibly apply to the group."

Leader of the Conservative Cllr Andrew Geary said: "The Labour party clearly has got its own internal problems. That's fairly obvious. With accusations of bullying it looks like the problems in the Labour Party in Bletchley reflect the problems nationally. They are in a complete pickle."

Council Leader Sam Crooks said it was a matter for the Labour Party.

MK bikers join in heroes ride-past

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

AT least 144 bikers from Milton Keynes took part in a rally to honour soldiers killed in Afghanistan.

City motorcyclists joined 22,000 from across the country who took part in the mass ride through Wootton Bassett in Wiltshire on Mother's Day.

The event raised thousands of pounds for the Afghan Heroes charity.

The chairman of Barrel Bikers MCC in Milton Keynes, known locally as Yogi, was one of 50 of the club's members who took part.

He said: "I think everyone had their own reasons for wanting to, some because friends or family are servicemen or women or have been, but I personally wanted to say thank you to the people of Wootton Bassett.

"This small town represents the whole of England standing on the sides of the streets while the coffins of soldiers are brought through."

The bikers gathered at RAF Hullavington Airfield prior to the event and then made their way to and through Wootton Bassett in waves of 500 every 15 minutes

Yogi said it was 'spectacular' to see so many bikers lined up to support the cause in a show of 'solidarity'.

He added: "Bikers are a part of society that are sometimes frowned upon or looked upon as anti-social when in fact the majority of bike clubs fundraise on a very regular basis.

"When we arrived at Hullavington airfield there must have been over a mile of bikes lined up and as we approached the start line there was as many filing in behind us.

"It is not simply the numbers, as I have been to events with thousands of bikers before, but I have not been around so many for such a poignant reason.

"I was proud to be a part of it, it was an incredibly humbling experience."

A spokesman for Afghan Heroes said 144 bikers from Milton Keynes registered to take part in the ride, but more may have joined them on the day.

The money raised including the £5 entry fee is still being counted but is expected to easily top £100,000.

Council needs an interdepartmental, multidisciplinary, transformational prioritisation of its use of plain English

JARGON-ridden Milton Keynes Council must transform its vocabulary to facilitate the engagement of its service users.

That is the message from its leader after it emerged that the authority is guilty of using 146 of the 250 words on the Local Government Association's hit list.

The litany of banned terms, such as 'pathfinder', 'tranche' and 'subsidiarity' – readily used by Milton Keynes Council – was unveiled by the association last week.

But Cllr Sam Crooks has called for a straight-speaking, plain-talking council, suggesting that a glossary is provided at council meetings for any technical terms.

Last year MK NEWS counted 101 of the 200 offending words on the council's website.

This year the authority has stepped up its jargon output, now using 60 per cent of the banned phrases, including new additions 'pump priming', 'future proofing' and 'cross-sectoral'.

Minutes from a social care and housing meeting include information about 'refocusing the financial envelope for example the transformational grant was ring-fenced, some money could be used for pump-priming'.

Even the council's consultation web page, which intends to involve rather than alienate the public, uses three of the offending terms: 'community cohesion', 'core strategy' and 'wellbeing'.

Cllr Crooks said: "It's something we will have to look at. We put all paper documents through the basic English test. It's important we don't put people off. I got a letter from the PCT the other day and you just lose the will to live. When people mentioned we were bad at this we picked up the basic English test. I do think the relationship with the public is very important. We must try and do better."

Local Government Association chairman, Dame Margaret Eaton, said: "Any organisation that spends taxpayers' money has a duty not only to provide value for money to local people, but also to tell them what they get for the money they pay. People would be furious if they had no idea of what services their cash is paying for and how they should get to use them."

Pensioner's death prompts changes

Hospital treatment contributed to woman patient's death claims deputy coroner

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes Hospital has come under fire after a series of contentious actions preceded a pensioner's death.

Retired nanny Gwendoline Georgina Buchanan, 74, died on September 15, 2005 after seven weeks in hospital with severe lung disease.

Deputy coroner Tom Osborne was told that inserting a food line - which punctured her lung - and then clamping a chest drain were unnecessary and contributed to her death.

But her doctors argued they did what was best for the patient.

Initially the cause of death was recorded as pneumonia and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD).

But her family maintained there were several failings and fought for a full investigation. A four-day inquest was held after the Secretary of State gave permission.

During his verdict yesterday, Mr Osborne hit out at 'appalling record keeping' which 'hampered' his investigation.

Former smoker Mrs Buchanan suffered from COPD and emphysema. The grandmother of five was admitted to hospital in July 2005. By September, when doctors believed she was malnourished, they inserted a line in her chest for food.

However, independent expert witness Dr Vincent Mak said this was unnecessary. In fact, the day before she had eaten three full meals, which included scrambled egg, omelette and quiche.

There were also two warnings from dieticians against this 'risky' procedure. Inserting the line punctured her lung, which Dr Mak said was life-threatening.

He said: "Prior to having the central line inserted she was fine, she was improving on a daily basis. Why is it she was fine one day and the next she has severe pneumonia following intervention?"

Mr Osborne, recording a narrative verdict, agreed there were alternative and safer methods to using this line.

He accepted the assertion that the chest drain should not have been clamped 'under any circumstances'.

Her son Andrew Buchanan said: "Several failings have been highlighted and if lessons can be learned then it's been worth the struggle. Because of her age and condition she lived for the simple pleasures in life. She was small in stature but big in heart."

A hospital spokesman said: "Issues surrounding the care she received before [Mrs Buchanan] died have already been thoroughly investigated as a result of our complaints process and, where appropriate, lessons have been learnt as a result."

Best thing since sliced bread

ENGLAND staging the 2018 FIFA World Cup will be the best thing since sliced bread which is why MK Dons players Sam Baldock and Dean Lewington have signed up to the bid.

If England wins the rights Milton Keynes has already been selected as a host city venue for football's biggest tournament.

Supermarket Morrisons launched a campaign this week to collect more than two million signatures in its stores across England.

Anyone in Milton Keynes wishing to sign up to the bid can visit Morrisons stores in Milton Keynes and Leighton Buzzard to show their support, between now and September 2010.

Elsewhere, Dons striker Jermaine Easter has been busy this week getting in practice before the big game against Southampton on Saturday.

But Easter hasn't just been in training at Woughton on the Green - he has also been drumming up support ahead of the League One show down.

Supporters are being encouraged to follow in his footsteps take their drums along on Saturday to stop the Saints from marching on at stadiummk.

Drugs dog used in raid on pub

A PUB has been raided by police with a drugs dog.

Police carried out a search warrant under the Misuse of Drugs Act at The Netherfield Tavern public house in Farthing Grove at 8.30pm on Friday.

Everyone in the public house was detained and searched under the warrant and police recovered a quantity of class A and B drugs and an offensive weapon.

A 25-year-old man was reported at the scene for possession of class B drug, cannabis and will receive a summons to attend Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court.

All of the drugs seized, along with the offensive weapon will now be destroyed by police.

Police also carried out a raid at an address in Brent, Tinkers Bridge just before 7.30pm on Saturday.

A 27-year-old man was arrested at the property on suspicion of possession of cannabis with intent to supply and theft of a motor vehicle.

He was later released on police bail until June 7, pending police enquiries.

PC Jim Adams, neighbourhood specialist officer for Netherfield and Tinkers Bridge, said: "This is an on going crack down on anti-social behaviour in the area and we want to reinforce the message that drugs and other forms of anti-social behaviour will not be tolerated.

"Information from local people is key in continuing the fight against drugs and I urge our communities to talk to officers about any drug related issue or, if they don't want to speak to the police, contact Crimestoppers charity anonymously."

Give a bit of green land over to car parking

SIR – I have read with disgust the plans to introduce yet another stealth tax on the poor downtrodden motorist.

Not only is it bad enough we can't use our cars on the road because they are being destroyed by potholes and unrepaired streets.

We now run the risk of being fined for parking on them.

Would the council like to supply some sky hooks to hang our cars up at the end of the day?

In the street I live on there are five parking spaces for three flats and nine houses. There are four cars registered at my house as myself, my wife and my two sons all have cars. Three of the nine houses are multi-occupancy lettings with goodness knows how many cars.

I would use public transport if it wasn't such a joke – as is the new bylaw.

Perhaps the members of the council would like to re-visit the original concept of Milton Keynes.

A city designed for modern day, car friendly, living. There should be suitable provision to prevent people getting fined in the first place.

Plenty of our revered greenland has been given over to profiteering companies, who build hypermarkets, football stadiums and office blocks.

How about giving some of it up to provide adequate parking for residents. Because without us there would be no Milton Keynes.

I pay my road tax, income tax and council tax. We pay the highest tax, in Europe on fuel. Please don't tax us any more.

Zane Smith
Resident of Campbell Park parish

Disabled risk

SIR – It's about time something was done on Stantonbury.

We have to walk in the road because so many cars are parked on the path or on grassed areas.

It's a nightmare if you are disabled and you have a disabled scooter.

We have to risk our lives riding in the road because we can't get across as someone has parked their car over the pavement.

Grace Quinn
Sent by e-mail

A soft touch

SIR – Once again the motorist is to be penalised (because we are the soft touch) not enough that if you want to go anywhere in MK you have to pay to park your car, even if you are sick (MK Hospital), now they are hoping to extract more money for parking outside your house.

I have lived in Tennyson Drive, Newport Pagnell for more than 35 years and drive up down Linford Avenue every day, the grass verges in this road are mostly in very good condition and have survived for over 40 years without the 'help' of the council, which is more than can be said for the actual road surface.

Instead of wasting thousands of pounds on poles and signage, should not the priority be to repair the craters in this stretch of road (there before the snow) before an accident occurs caused by people swerving to miss said holes?

Silly me that would cost money not raise income.

Perhaps if all the drivers who have to have their tracking re-aligned or their suspensions repaired were to send the bills to the council this might prompt some action.

M J McIntyre
Sent by e-mail

Safety or cash?

SIR – Surely it is better to park on a grass verge, providing it doesn't cause obstruction on the actual pavement, than restrict traffic in a narrow road which could well cause a problem of access for emergency vehicles.

What are the council's priorities? Safety or raising cash ?

K Newton
Cottingham Grove

More spaces

SIR – Car drivers are always being penalised with high charges on parking, tax, petrol etc.

The problem is that there is not enough parking spaces allocated on housing estates, this should be addressed before you start giving parking fines out.

Many estates have very little parking space just for residents let alone visitors. It is bad planning that makes it dangerous.

Dawn,
Sent by e-mail

Close to home

SIR – This city was built as the city of cars, why on earth can't proper safe parking areas be provided?

Once again this council is going after an easy target not after troublemakers who are making life a misery for hard working residents who feel that they need to park near their houses for safety reasons.

I would hate to have to park away from my home in some of these awful estates.

Ann Denton
Sent by e-mail

Vote loser

SIR – Which useless jobsworth dreamt this one up?

Have you seen the new estates like Kingsmead and Oxley Park, where due to greedy builders and stupid planning regulations, resident parking is incredibly restricted?

Please could you publish the voting record for this, so that I know who not to vote for at the next council elections?

Malcolm Haig
Emerson Valley

■ MORE LETTERS ON PARKING ON PAGE 11

Resident parking fines issued as a 'last resort'

SIR – Your report last week about parking on pavements and grass verges needs to be placed in context.

First, it is essential we do this for all the parents with buggies and disabled people who can't get past badly parked cars at the moment and have to go out onto the road.

Second, it damages both grass verges and kerbstones and makes them look unsightly.

And third, under some of these verges there are important services such as gas and electricity which could be damaged.

But we know there's a problem and are working with parish councils to see if we can put in lay-bys at some of the worst spots to relieve pressure

And we recognise that the council's bin lorries are among the worst offenders and will be using smaller vans on some estates.

There won't be fines straight away.

There'll be a warning letter first and then a visit from a council representative.

Fines are the last resort.

We'd rather work something out with individual car owners so that we can free the pavements up together.

Sam Crooks
Leader of MK Council

Stop Salden Chase

SIR – I would like to welcome Conservative parliamentary candidate Iain Stewart's decision to join the queue of those opposing the Salden Chase development of over 5,300 houses to the West of Bletchley.

This stands in stark contrast to the public silence of our Labour MP on the issue, although she has apparently told residents in private letters that she has 'concerns' about the proposals.

Unfortunately, neither the Labour nor the Conservative candidates can resist the urge to play party politics on this issue.

Labour blame Tory Aylesbury Vale Council, while the Conservatives blame the Labour Government.

The fact is that the Salden Chase proposals are underpinned by the South East Regional Plan, which both Labour and the Conservatives are signed up to.

Only the Green Party has consistently opposed the expansion of Milton Keynes beyond its current boundaries.

When I was knocking on doors in West Bletchley last month collecting signatures against the 'Salden Chase' proposals, one message kept coming across from local people - Traditional two party politics has failed in Bletchley. Luckily it has been replaced by a new politics which the Green Party are proud to be part of. This involves us all working together for a fair deal, because a fair deal is worth fighting for.

Katrina Deacon
Green Party Parliamentary Candidate, Milton Keynes South

The middle way

SIR – Can I take this opportunity to make drivers aware that not everyone who uses the middle lane and chooses to go straight on is doing it to cut people up.

This often happens, when I travel towards city centre, along Dansteed Way and choose to go straight at Grafton Street roundabout.

People toot their horns and wave their arms in the air as gestures of hostility.

The truth of the matter is that this roundabout, which has two approach lanes, is not marked with direction arrows and you are correct to take the right-hand lane for turning right and going straight on.

The left hand lane can also quite correctly be used for going straight on or turning left.

Community service for killing biker pal

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A MAN who caused the death of a motorcyclist by careless driving has been sentenced to 180 hours of community service.

Michael Treanor, 45, from Sheelin Grove, Bletchley was also banned from driving for three years at Milton Keynes Magistrates Court on Thursday.

Magistrates decided the collision was caused by 'a moment of inattention'.

The victim's friends claim he has been let down by the legal system.

Kieran McCormack, 36, a mechanic from Bow Brickhill, was killed when his green Honda motorbike crashed into the side of Treanor's black VW Golf as he did a U-turn on the V10, Brickhill Street near Caldecotte on Thursday, July 30.

Clare Galo, defending, said Treanor had known Mr McCormack for approximately a year and they were 'quite good friends'.

She said it was a pure coincidence that they were on the same bit of road at the same time and Treanor was 'devastated' by what had happened.

Miss Galo read a statement from Treanor that said Mr McCormack was 'a lovely human being' and that he was 'every day in [his] thoughts'.

He added: "From the bottom of my heart I am so sorry."

Julian Vickery, prosecuting, said Treanor was travelling south down the V10, back from his work at John Lewis Distribution Centre in Blakelands, when he decided to make a U-turn to avoid a queue of traffic just before the Tilbrook roundabout as the barriers were down at Bow Brickhill level crossing.

Mr Vickery said: "He completed the manoeuvre and ended up stationary in a lay-by parallel to his previous position, facing north.

"During the manoeuvre his front seat passenger advised him that the barriers of the level crossing were rising, so Mr Treanor decided to conduct another U-turn to his original direction.

U-turn: Michael Treanor

> How you can give someone a sentence like that for someone's life I don't know, it's awful. It's just not enough
> – Friends of Kieran McCormack, above, who dispute that Michael Treanor had a close relationship with him

"As he performed this second U-turn he failed to see a Honda motorbike ridden by Mr McCormack and pulled directly into its path."

Collision investigator PC Adrian White concluded that while a U-turn was not prohibited, other opportunities to turn around were available.

Mr Vickery added: "A tyre mark found in the lay-by indicated a wheel spin, suggesting a hurried and rapid manoeuvre."

The court heard that Mr McCormack's speedometer stopped at 65mph at the point of impact, so his motorbike would have been in view for around five seconds after exiting the roundabout.

In a police interview Treanor said he looked in his mirrors and over his shoulder before pulling into the road but did not see or hear the motorbike until it collided with his car.

Magistrates also ordered Treanor to pay £85 court costs.

Outside court friends of Mr McCormack told MK NEWS that they dispute that Treanor had a close relationship with him and said the sentence was not enough.

Neil Brooks said: "How you can give someone a sentence like that for someone's life I don't know, it's awful. It's just not enough."

Woman jailed for multiple crimes

A WOMAN from Milton Keynes has been jailed after pleading guilty to burglary, receiving stolen goods and assault.

Theresa O'Grady, 29, from Two Mile Ash, was sentenced to two years and ten months in jail at Huntingdon Crown Court on Tuesday, March 9.

Her civil partner, Lisa O'Grady, 29, from Two Mile Ash, was also charged with receiving stolen goods and obstructing and resisting a constable in the execution of duty.

Lisa O'Grady also pleaded guilty on Tuesday and is due to be sentenced on April 13.

The charge of burglary relates to a handbag being taken from an address in Ellesborough Grove, Two Mile Ash, on 23 June 2009.

The charges of receiving stolen goods are in connection with property recovered from another burglary in Two Mile Ash last year.

Smokers fined for littering

TWO men have been fined for dropping cigarette butts.

Alex Mutch, 42, of Barbers Mews, Neath Hill and Asa Haycock, 27, of Roveley Court, Stony Stratford were outside MK Central Railway Station on October 9 when they were seen, in separate incidents, to drop their cigarette ends on the pavement. Both were issued with fixed penalty notices for littering by enforcement officers from MK Council but neither paid.

Mutch was fined £300 and ordered to pay £347.11 in legal costs.

Haycock was fined £100 and ordered to pay £100 in costs.

Anti-Google 'Street View' village online

THE city has taken its place on Google's Street View – including the village which rose up against it.

The online panoramic facility which was made by cars with 360-degree cameras mounted on their roofs traveling the roads of the country, shows images from 95 per cent of them, including most of Milton Keynes.

The village of Broughton, whose residents challenged a camera car driver on April 1, has also been uploaded.

As a result of MK NEWS coverage of the dispute, Broughton has become synonymous with a privacy debate.

Resident Paul Jacobs called the facility 'a burglar's dream' and his neighbour John Holmes added: "It's an invasion of our privacy. They should have asked our permission."

According to ward councillor John Bint, the village was blacked out online on Thursday morning, only to be available again that afternoon.

He said: "The fact that they blacked out Broughton and put it online again illustrates the high-handedness that irritated people from the beginning. It's very much an individual choice. We continue to hear the anecdotes from around the world of people doing innocent things in the photos which may not look innocent. It seems like yet another step in the surveillance state."

Google's Street View camera car photographs Broughton

The Google press office said they know Broughton 'very well' but residents should rest assured they can request for their homes to be removed, which happens within 48 hours.

Number plates and faces are automatically blurred.

Residents can request that their homes be removed from the Internet facility

Apprentice Lawrence Smith with the replica of the Bloomer which was removed from Station Square in CMK

Bloomer set to go on show in town

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A REPLICA steam locomotive may soon be back on public display.

The replica of the Wolverton Bloomer, which was moved out of Station Square in central Milton Keynes three years ago, could be set on a plinth in the entrance to Wolverton Works, where the original was built in the 1850s.

A planning application has been submitted to Milton Keynes Council to place the 46ft long Bloomer to the side of the works entrance and to knock down a wall so that it can be seen from Stratford Road.

Steve Eyres, chairman of Wolverton Society for Arts and Heritage, said: "We've been tasked by Milton Keynes Council to find a home for the Bloomer.

"On the left hand side of the Wolverton Works entrance there's a not very attractive wall and iron gates that could be taken down and replaced by the Bloomer.

"I think most people would like to see it on the Stratford Road where anyone coming into the town will immediately see it and I think it will look splendid."

VIDEO To watch a video interview with Lawrence Smith and Steve Eyres visit www.mk-news.co.uk

Since it was moved to the old works, which is now owned by Railcare, the Bloomer has been partly restored and repainted but the project was delayed by changes in management.

Now Lawrence Smith, 18, an apprentice at Wolverton Works, has been making final touches before it goes on public display once again.

lawrence, who is a rail enthusiast, said: "I am replacing all the fake missing rivets and fitting a handrail to the front, which the original engine had but the replica doesn't. My parents bought me a train set when I was little and I was hooked from then on.

"My dad used to drive me over from Northampton on the weekends just to sit and look at the Bloomer.

"I didn't think that I would ever be fixing it a good ten years onwards, so I'm very happy to be involved with it."

Wolverton Society for Arts and Heritage originally decided that they wanted the Bloomer – which was named after Amelia Bloomer, the first lady to be photographed wearing trousers – to come back to Wolverton in 2000.

But they had to wait until 2007 when Milton Keynes Partnership decided they wanted to make use of Station Square.

The society, working with Wolverton and Greenley's Town Council, now hopes to secure funding from money paid by the developers of the McCorquodale housing site for community projects and to have the Bloomer in place before the Wolverton Works open weekend on August 14-15.

It also plans to put a war memorial for Wolverton Works employees on the site.

Millionaire helps to make it with flowers

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A PAIR of florists are to be featured on a television show helping struggling small businesses.

Self-made millionaire Hilary Devey came to Leaf it Out in Netherfield to help cousins Donna Coventry and Ann Scott as part of a new series called The Business Inspector on channel Five.

The pair will be featured in the first episode tonight (Wednesday, March 17) at 8pm.

Donna, 45, from Tinkers Bridge and Ann, 49, from Coffee Hall, spent three years doing an evening floristry course at Moulton College before setting up Leaf it Out five years ago.

After working from their homes for three years they moved the business to Farthing Enterprise Centre in Netherfield in 2008.

They still have yet to earn enough money to take a wage as they are investing any profits in the company.

Both have big families to support; Ann with six children aged between six and 25 and Donna with four children, the youngest aged three.

Ann said: "We are good at being florists but we weren't good at being business women. I think that can be common in small companies as you learn your trade but not always the business side.

Donna Coventry and Ann Scott of Leaf it Out in Netherfield are given advice in a new Channel Five series The Business Inspector

"Hilary pointed us in the right direction in relation to costings and profit margins and things.

"She also showed us how to pitch for corporate work."

The programme will show the cousins pitching for a big floral contract at Bletchley Park under the guidance of Hilary who is chief executive of the Pall-Ex distribution group, which boasts a combined turnover approaching £10million.

It will also feature the pair meeting staff at a successful florist in London and a redesign of their website.

Ann added: "We have learnt a lot and we are really trying hard to get everything together, putting together corporate packages and contacting businesses."

PARKING SPECIAL

Letters have been edited to allow more readers to air their views

No to tank training area

SIR – As a resident of one of the areas affected by the new anti-verge parking legislation I am broadly in favour of anything that stops our roadsides being churned into something resembling a tank training area.

However we live near one of Milton Keynes' beautiful old village greens.

Sadly, and despite the provision of a number of parking spaces, too many people ruin it for others by driving or parking on the green itself , leaving it as a scarred, muddy mess through winter and early spring.

Calls to the council were referred to the Parks Trust who own the land but they apparently have no powers to enforce their no-parking rules.

Richard Hughes
The Green, Loughton

Cheated on parking

SIR – I moved to Tattenhoe in 1999 when the houses were built and it was only then I realised that we were cheated out of parking space.

We were given, what they called two spaces, one of which is the garage and the other in front of the garage.

This makes it very difficult for a family with two cars where both parties are going out and coming in at different times.

I am very concerned about the fines that the council proposed to imposed, as our visitors would not have anywhere to park their cars.

Ruby Blake
Sent by e-mail

■ SIR – I can see both points. I live in Wolverton Mill and the parking is really bad and sometimes really dangerous with the parking of cars fully on the path. You could blame the builders for not making enough spaces or drives for these cars.

Who builds a four bedroom house with a drive for only one car?

On the other hand, the people who buy these houses should see this will be a problem and not expect everyone else to have to suffer from their stupid parking.

Steve
Sent by e-mail

■ SIR – Maybe the highly paid designers, planners and developers, etc should be the ones paying the parking fees.

Norman,
Sent by e-mail

■ SIR – Why were the layouts of the effected newer estates granted planning permission in the first place?

I remember viewing some houses on the newer estates and being told homes were 'only allowed one parking space each to discourage people from owning more cars'. As if that was ever going to happen!

Christina Holland
Milburn Avenue, Oldbrook

■ SIR – So let me try to make sense of this plan. You are going to employ hundreds of traffic wardens at a huge cost to the council tax payers and attach fines to vehicles that are offending... in the local authority planned residential areas.

Why not buy a few hundred litres of yellow paint for yellow lines plus hire a couple of dozen unemployed guys to paint them and install the occasional £50 parking signs here and there to INSTRUCT the general public of the local parking regulations and, more importantly, the Highway Code.

Paul Letch,
Sent by e-mail

■ SIR – I'm a former employee of a parking contractor for MK council and left partly because I could see how greedy the council were getting.

Westcroft, Tattenhoe, Kingsmead all have minimal parking spaces per house hold (1.5 I believe is the guideline), but have huge footpaths on either side of the road. If you removed footpath from one side of the road, and halfed the width of the other side it would create space for extra parking bays, enough room for traffic to flow in either direction and room for the pedestrans.

Peter P
Sent by e-mail

■ SIR – I live in Loughton which has parking restrictions. Although I have a permit to park on the road I have received a fine for parking across my driveway (considered to be parking on the pavement).

I parked there to avoid blocking up the road but unfortunately once parking restrictions are in place it becomes impossible to argue your point in situations like this.

All of the enforcement is outsourced and any discussion about inappropriately issued parking fines are out of the council's hands. So if your area has parking restrictions imposed then be prepared to accept that they will be enforced and you and your visitors need to be vigilant to avoid fines.

Glenn
Sent by e-mail

■ SIR - I am very happy to hear about the new parking restrictions. My neighbours have five or six vehicles at any one time and persistently park on the public footpath in front of my house.

I hope the new scheme is introduced to Two Mile Ash very soon.

Name withheld
Sent by e-mail

■ SIR – This is just another new stupid law. Many houses have no option and have been doing it for years.

How stupid can the council get and is this just another way of making money.

If someone raised a protest march I would be up front.

Sandie Pryde
Sent by e-mail

■ SIR – The parking on footpaths has been encouraged by MK Council their vehicles are just as bad as anyone else.

I use the footpath as a pedestrian and an electric buggy user and find it fustrating to have to go out onto the road because some inconsiderate car person has totally blocked the pathway.

By allowing it to go on for many years the council have encouraged it.

There is loads of space on our estate to increase the parking areas, and in many places widen the road.

William Collins
Stacey Bushes

■ SIR – I used to live in Linford Avenue so took a ride there after reading your story. There are poles all the way down displaying notice. It looks dreadfulWould not one pole have been sufficient? A disgusting waste of money!

The Big Rock centre will offer 150 roped climbs up to 11m high plus boulder-ing routes

Local firm aims high with new 'rock gym'

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

THE city's reputation for extreme sports facilities is to take another lift when a new indoor rock climbing centre opens.

Big Rock Climbing Ltd has gained permission from Milton Keynes Council to change a vacant building in Newmarket Court in Kingston into a 'rock gym'. The centre, which will be open to all ages, will offer 150 roped climbs up to 11metres high plus bouldering routes.

Mike Axon, director of Big Rock Climbing, which is based in Milton Keynes, said: "The nearest climbing centres of this size are in Warwick, London or Bristol so we identified a gap in the market.

"Milton Keynes is known for its active and energetic population and with the Xscape and all the other activities available this is the thing that is missing.

"Indoor climbing is growing every year in the UK. It popular as you can do it all year round and it is one of the best things you can do for muscle toning and aerobic exercise."

The facility, which will also offer courses, will open in around four months.

Museum welcomes its 20,000th visitor

MILTON Keynes Museum is celebrating being popular.

The museum has recorded 20,000 visitors since it opened.

The number was reached on Monday when it was visited by Holmwood First School.

It was decided to give every child in the party a ticket to come back and bring an adult free of charge with free family admission for the student who was the 20,000th through the door.

The lucky child was Michael Simpson.

Director Bill Griffiths said: "This is great news. as we know that nearly all our visitors return once they have visited. We thought we were doing well when we reached 10,000 about 10 years ago but this is a real achievement down to the hard work of all our volunteers."

Milton Keynes Museum is thought to be the largest museum in the country run almost entirely by volunteers.

Bill added: "This is a beautiful and historic site and our long-term aim is to become a leading museum and yet still belong to the whole community."

The museum's new season starts on April 1 and then it will be open every day, except Monday and Tuesday, from 11am until 4.30pm. The Easter-egg Hunt will be held, as usual from Friday April 2 until Monday, 5.

‘Rapid repair teams’ tackle city’s potholes

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

NEW pothole blitz teams are repairing roads in a £1.25million campaign to fix the damage caused by the worst winter in 30 years.

Milton Keynes Council is sending ‘rapid repair teams’ to mend major roads and routes into housing estates in a new approach to cut the time spent repairing potholes.

Cllr Alan Mallyon, cabinet member for transport, said: “This was the worst winter in thirty years for creating potholes with there being a succession of freeze, thaws, freeze, thaws.

“Potholes have literally been appearing as fast as we have been repairing them.

“Nationally it is estimated that more than 1.6million potholes have appeared since Christmas and Milton Keynes is no exception.

“That is why we have tripled the manpower we have made available to repair the potholes and why we are investing so heavily in improving the roads for the benefit of all the people travelling around Milton Keynes.”

In the past small teams of two to three people would repair individual potholes as they appeared at an average cost of £80 for each pothole.

Now larger teams will repair longer stretches of a road more quickly in a blanket approach, at a cost of £20 for each pothole.

The idea is that pothole repairs may not be needed in those areas again for several years.

To kick start the campaign £250,000 is being spent over the next two months on fixing some of the worst potholes on some of Milton Keynes’ most used roads.

Highways network manager Ian McGregor added: “We are spending more than £1.25million on repairing potholes, by targeting roads most used by residents and some of the estates worst affected by the winter.”

The pothole teams have already repaired stretches of road on the A509 towards Newport Pagnell and on the V3 Fulmer St between H5 Portway & H6 Childs Way.

In the pipeline are repairs to Aylesbury Street and Watling Street, Bletchley; High Street, Olney; Station Road, Newport Pagnell; Aylesbury Street and Church Street, Wolverton; Buckingham Road, Central Milton Keynes; Glovers Lane, Heelands; Old Groveway, Simpson; Pitfield, Kiln Farm; Skeldon Gate, Willen; Water Eaton Road, Bletchley and Waterside, Peartree Bridge.

■ To report a pothole contact environmental services helpline on 01908 252625.

Stuart James Carmichael: Three years detention for robbery

Bike-riding phone robbers attacked victim with knife

TWO young men have been jailed for attacking someone with a knife and robbing them.

Stuart Carmichael and Tristan Longworth set upon their victim in Cranesbill Place, Conniburrow on Wednesday, August 19 last year.

The victim was walking with two friends when Carmichael and Longworth approached and asked if he had any cannabis.

When he said no they rode off on bicycles but a short time later they returned and attacked the victim with a knife, taking his mobile phone and prescription spectacles.

The victim sustained cuts and grazing to his elbows, cuts to his face and a small puncture wound to his back.

Carmichael, 19, from Gordale, Heelands, who pleaded guilty to the offence, was sentenced at Huntingdon Crown Court on Tuesday last week to three years' detention in a Young Offenders Institution, minus the 194 days he has already served.

Tristan Longworth, 18, from Arncliffe Drive, Heelands, was found guilty of robbery at Huntingdon Crown Court in February and has been sentenced to 21 months' detention in a Young Offenders Institution.

DC Greg Hughes, who investigated the incident said: "Both Thames Valley Police and the courts take robbery extremely seriously.

"It is always dealt with by a Crown Court, where the sentences can be much higher than in a Magistrates' Court.

"We have a very robust approach in Milton Keynes to investigating robbery so offenders here run a very high risk of getting caught.

I would say to anyone thinking about committing these types of offences to consider whether stealing a mobile phone, an iPod or tobacco is really worth a long stretch in prison.

"Victims of robbery are often left traumatised by the experience and can suffer loss of confidence and become too scared to go out.

"Thankfully these offences are rare in Milton Keynes but we will take a zero tolerance approach to anyone committing these crimes."

Hunt for ginger-haired attacker

A 14-year-old boy was assaulted in a park by a gang of older teenagers.

The victim was in a small park in Bradville with his twin brother and a group of friends at around 6pm on Sunday, March 7 when they were approached by a group of five older teenagers.

One of the teenagers demanded that the boy's brother hand over his bicycle and grabbed it from him.

The boy stepped in to protect his brother and was punched in the side of the face.

The offender then dropped the bike and walked off with the rest of the group leaving the park, which is next to the cricket pitch and the old windmill.

The boy sustained a swollen cheek and two small cuts to the inside of his mouth.

The main offender is described as white, approximately 18-years-old, 5ft 8ins tall with a round spotty face.

He had ginger hair which was spiked on top and had a visible scar on his face running from the right hand side of his head to his right eyebrow.

He was wearing a dark grey hooded Nike jumper, black Nike jogging bottoms and dark gloves.

The other offenders were aged between 15 to 19 and were all wearing tracksuit tops and bottoms.

One of the group was wearing a distinctive bright green and pink beanie hat.

Police would like to hear from anyone who was in the park and witnessed the incident or anyone who may know the identity of the offenders.

Call PC Sarah-Jane Cullum on 0845 8 505 505 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

TK Maxx staff get on their bikes for charity

STAFF at TK Maxx in thecentre:mk are cycling and running to Paris without leaving the store.

TK Maxx is a major sponsor of Sport Relief and with the support of RFE International who provided two static bikes and one running machine the staff decided to make the 351 miles journey to France starting on Friday and finishing on Sunday

Philip Davies, manager of TK Maxx Milton Keynes said: "Each store in the region will be doing something extra for Sport Relief and we decided that the staff would run and cycle from Milton Keynes to Paris over a three day period. At 351 miles we would need to cover 117 miles per day and if we're to complete this during trading hours we'll need an average speed over 13 miles per hour.

"Taking our inspiration from Eddie Izzard we've done minimal training and just want to throw ourselves into the challenge. Sport Relief is such a great way to raise money for disadvantaged people across the globe, and we might get a bit fit in the process."

Prince's charity is to transform park

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

PRINCE Charles' charity is set to transform Bletchley Park.

The home of the code breakers will be overhauled by the Prince's Regeneration Trust, which was appointed as project manager last week.

In 2008 charities and authorities from all over the world rallied round when MK NEWS revealed that several of the buildings' were in danger of falling down.

But now the trust is one of the organisations that will be restoring several areas of the site, including some of the legendary huts in which the code breaking took place.

Their regeneration project will enhance the visitor experience, providing a more dynamic tour, more educational events and activities and better visitor facilities.

A grant of £460,000 has been awarded by the Heritage Lottery fund to work up the development phase of the project. The trust will then seek a further £4.1million.

It follows the Prince of Wales and Duchess of Cornwall's visit to Bletchley Park in 2008, during which he described it as 'remarkable' and one of the 'greatest British success stories'.

Ros Kerslake, chief executive of the Prince's Regeneration Trust, said: "We're absolutely thrilled to be working on a site of such great importance to our country. Our aim is to substantially increase the number of visitors to Bletchley Park by making Bletchley attractive and relevant to visitors of all ages and backgrounds. This is a part of our 20th century history but we want it to be a top 21st century visitor destination.

"Better displays and exhibition space, more interactive facilities to assist with learning, regular related events, and improved food and drink outlets are things that the project partners will be working on to increase visitor numbers and encourage repeat visits."

Simon Greenish, chief executive of Bletchley Park, said: "The immensely important historical site of Bletchley Park is now poised to be restored and the full extraordinary story of the work of the code breakers and the impact they had on the war will now be told. It is vitally important that we ensure this site is protected for future generations and with the very generous funding from the Heritage Lottery Fund now in place we can start the work."

Thousands expected to run for Sport Relief

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

THOUSANDS of people will gather in the centre of Milton Keynes this weekend to put their best feet forward for the Sainsbury's Sport Relief Mile.

On Sunday, March 21 hundreds of thousands of people across the UK will come together to get active, raise cash and change lives by taking part in a one, three, or six mile event.

The Sport Relief Mile event in Milton Keynes is one of the biggest in the country, with thousands of people signed up.

It will start from the Church of Christ the Cornerstone car park, which will be closed after midnight on Saturday, March 20 until late Sunday afternoon, when the events have been completed.

Milton Keynes Council sports development manager Richard Davis said: "With one, three or six mile distances to choose from, there is a 'mile' for everyone, from the super sporty to those who just want to have fun."

As well as the races themselves, the city centre will be alive with various entertainment and attractions, including music, street artists and other performers taking to the streets to give the day a carnival atmosphere.

Various roads in the city centre, including Saxon Gate, Midsummer Boulevard and part of Silbury Boulevard, will be closed from 6am.

Diversion signs will be in place, but anyone using them is advised to add a few minutes to their journey.

Residents are also preparing themselves for a hula hooping spectacular as they join forces to help set a new world record at the Milton Keynes Hula Hoops Hoopathon.

The Hula Hoops Hoopathon will kick off at midday following a full warm up for all participants and is sure to get Milton Keynes into a hooping frenzy.

For more information about Sport Relief and to enter the Milton Keynes Mile, please visit www.sportrelief.com.

- On Sunday golfers and visitors to Abbey Hill Golf Centre will be able to combine completing a Sport Relief Mile with a quick game of golf by playing the Par-3 Short Course.

Start and finish flags will mark when players have completed their Sport Relief Mile.

Chip the Bear will be completing his own Sport Relief Mile at 10.30am and will be on hand to entertain children and adults all day.

The golf centre will be donating all Par-3 Short Course green fees taken between 9.30am and noon to the cause.

While at the City Chuch on Sunday an attempt will be at a world record hula hooping event.

Bank call centre fraudsters jailed

Investigation into complex fraud took police two years

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A PAIR of call centre workers who stole £75,000 from customers' bank accounts have been jailed.

Seun Waterton and Laura Barrett both worked at a management services company in Milton Keynes that provided a customer service call centre for a national bank.

At Huntingdon Crown Court on Thursday, Waterton, 26, from Fowler, Stantonbury, was sentenced to 18 months imprisonment and Barrett, 24, from Hornbeam, Newport Pagnell, was sentenced to 14 months, after pleading guilty to conspiracy to defraud.

The court heard that between September 21, 2007 and February 18, 2008, 75 accounts were compromised and 37 of these accounts were subject to fraud attempts.

In each case the customer has confirmed that the transfer requests are fraudulent.

The national bank recorded the net fraud loss at £75,221.98 as of March 18, 2008.

However, the bank estimates that there has been up to £142,336.83 gross attempted fraud.

Waterton and Barrett were arrested on December 10, 2007 and bailed pending further investigation.

They were both charged nearly two years later on November 9, 2009.

DC Jo Pape, investigating, said: "This has been a very complex investigation where we have been working very closely with the bank to ensure a charge was brought to Waterton and Barrett.

"They betrayed the trust of their employers, abusing their position for their own financial gain."

Credit union opens at family centre

A CREDIT union is giving struggling families a financial lifeline.

Action for Children's Greenleys Family Centre in Ardwell Lane has teamed up with Milton Keynes Credit Union to provide a collection point where people can join and begin saving money for the future.

Once they have been saving regularly for three months, they will also be entitled to apply for small loans with manageable interest rates.

Angus Forsythe, manager of Action for Children's Greenleys Family Centre, said: "Many of the people we work with don't have bank accounts, so this is a fantastic way of helping them to save regularly, be it for specific events like Christmas and holidays, or simply for a rainy day. The scheme will also provide them with a trusted source of small loans for emergency situations – such as when the washing machine breaks down – without them having to resort to borrowing money from doorstep money lenders at exorbitant rates of interest."

The facility is open every Wednesday from 9.30- 11.30am Anyone who lives or works in Milton Keynes is entitled to go along and begin saving.

Work starts on Monkston community facilities

A CITY estate is to be given much-needed community facilities.

Work has started on Monkston Park's 700 sq m community hall and function room.

Meanwhile Milton Keynes Partnership (MKP) is completing landscape and highway areas, with shrubs and trees planted at the entrance to the estate and the village green being finished.

Roads, redways, footpaths, lighting and signage will also be brought up to scratch so the area can be 'adopted' by the council.

The priority for the grid square is to increase the range of play opportunities for children and areas have been located for both natural and structured play areas.

Cheryl Montgomery, community development manager at MKP, said: "By working together with Milton Keynes Council, the Parks Trust and the parish council we hope to create safe and attractive play and community facilities in Monkston Park.

"It's really important that local residents, and especially the young people who will use these facilities, have their say and help us decide on the design and location of the play areas."

Bob Green, managing director for McCann Homes which is building the new community centre, said: "We are delighted to be part of this exciting new development for the Monkston Park community. The centre is the final stage of this development which also provides both private and affordable housing as well as retail units."

Film makers to see stars

Best chlamydia 'short' to be judged by soap actors

YOUNG people who make a short film encouraging fellow youngsters to take a test for chlamydia could get the chance to meet soap actors.

NHS Milton Keynes is asking people aged 15 to 24 to make a film of no longer than five minutes about why chlamydia tests are important and how easy it is to take the test.

The entries will be judged by a panel including local actors Ayden Callaghan, formerly of Emmerdale, and Jake Hendriks, who used to be in Hollyoaks, as well as local health specialists.

Derys Pragnell, senior health improvement specialist said: "The film can be as imaginative as you like, but do remember that NHS Milton Keynes will want to promote the winning entry."

The completed film should be added to YouTube and a link sent to communications@mkpct.nhs.uk or to NHS Milton Keynes' fan page on Facebook before March 30, 2010.

Entrants should include their name, date of birth and contact details.

Ideas of what information should be included in the film can be found at www.gettestedmk.nhs.uk

The winning entrant will receive an iPod and will be handed their prize by the star-studded panel.

Man dragged along street by car

A MAN was dragged along by a moving car after he tried to speak to the driver.

Between 12.20pm and 1pm on Monday, March 8 the victim approached a vehicle on the V8 Marlborough Street. As he went to speak to the driver through an open window, the driver pulled off, dragging him along for several hundred yards. As the vehicle stopped at a roundabout the victim let go and fell to ground. He sustained minor injuries.

The vehicle involved in the incident is a dark blue Peogeot 306.

Witnesses can contact PC Melissa Lee on 0845 8 505 505 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Three years: Dominic Fuller

Jail for man who burgled neighbours

A MAN has been jailed for three years for burgling his neighbours.

Dominic Fuller, 23, from Haddon, Great Holm was sentenced at Huntingdon Crown Court on Wednesday, March 10 after pleading guilty to committing a burglary in his own road on February 25.

He stole keys from the property before he was disturbed as the residents returned home.

Fuller also asked for a burglary he carried out in 2005 to be taken into consideration.

DC Jenny O'Neill, who investigated the case, said: "I am pleased with the sentence given and this shows even though he was only charged with one offence, the offence has been taken seriously by the police and the courts."

Florence Moo gets some training in at David Lloyds

Keep Moo-ving

THE herd leader for Willen Hospice's MK Midnight Moo is leading by example by taking in some serious workouts to get ready for the 10 mile walk.

Florence Moo was given a personal workout programme and some training tips at the David Lloyd gym in Newlands, which is the fitness sponsor for the event.

The MK Midnight Moo starts at midnight on Saturday, July 17 from Midsummer Place Shopping Centre and follows a circular, well-lit and marshalled route along the redways in Milton Keynes.

Entry for the night walk is £15 per person and all entrants will receive a MK Midnight Moo T-Shirt, refreshments throughout the course and a medal on finishing.

To join Florence's herd you can register online at www.mkmidnightmoo.com or call 01908 306698.

Melanie Harriss, spokesman for Willen Hospice, said: "Over 1,000 ladies have already signed up so get in quick to make sure you are part of this fantastic fundraising event for the Hospice."

Ark owner lives life to the fullest

MILTON Keynes' answer to Doctor Doolittle, has been recognised in a national competition designed to find the person who squeezes the most out of life.

Margaret Burke, who owns and operates the Ark Wildlife Centre in Bradville where she cares for injured wildlife day and night, decided to enter the competition run by vitality boosting supplement Pharmaton Capsules, after a friend suggested it to her.

People were asked to nominate themselves, or someone they knew, who packed, crammed and filled their days with activity, living every last minute to the full, whilst still managing to achieve a balanced lifestyle.

She was chosen as a winner in the London and South East category.

Margaret also looks after her 87-year-old father who is in a wheelchair, is chairman of a local residents' association, and even makes arts and crafts which she sells to raise money for the hospital in her 'spare' time.

Margaret has won a Nintendo Wii, which she intends to raise much-needed funds for the Ark Wildlife Hospital.

SIMON DARNELL

ONLY MAN
Audio Bullys

IT'S never an encouraging sign for a song's prospects when the opening bassline reminds you of the Fraggle Rock theme tune.

Mind you, this isn't the worst thing they've done by a long way, although they'll probably never release anything that'll be half as successful as Shot You Down again.

To be honest, the biggest problem I had with this one is the stop-start nature of it; there are a few places where I was glad I wasn't listening to this from a record because if I had I'd have been constantly checking to see if the needle had jumped and oh dear Lord I really am starting to sound like the sort of person I hoped I'd never become when I was a kid. This can't be, I'm only 35.

This week it's record needles, but a few weeks ago I was moaning that music today isn't as exciting as it was in years gone by.

Next thing you know, I'll be rattling on about how all this was fields when I was a kid... oh... it was... you know, sometimes there are downsides to living in a new town.

Anyway, as I was saying before I suddenly felt time creeping up on me in the same way that cats creep up on sparrows, the Audio Bullys have got a new song out and I've heard it and it's not rubbish.

That last point is probably a cause for some celebration, given that I can name all the Audio Bullys songs that I like on one hand, even including this one, so I'm seeing this as a sign that their tunes are getting better, and really, at the end of the day all I ask for is something good to listen to so at least something positive's come out of all this.

ON A MISSION
Gabriella Cilmi

WHAT is it with this week's singles and their basslines sounding familiar?

Take a bow, Joe Jackson's Steppin' Out.

See, this is all very nice and fluffy, it's got an 80s disco sound, some guitars to beef it up and La Cilmi giving it some welly as she always does, but there's nothing really special about this song.

It's alright and everything, but... well... that's the problem. It's just alright.

It's one of those songs that feels like it should've ended up being better than it is, but I've no idea what would've done the trick. How infuriating.

Win a place on Man U's soccer course

MANCHESTER United Soccer Schools is coming to Milton Keynes, and to celebrate we are giving away one action packed two-day Player Development Course (PDC), worth £67.95.

THERE'S something for everyone this summer as Milton Keynes Theatre launches a sizzling hot summer season.

Highlights include chart-topping tenor Jonathan Ansell in Whistle Down the Wind, Milton Keynes Theatre favourite Paul Nicholas who returns to star in the Gilbert and Sullivan classic The Pirates of Penzance, and Britain's Got Talent winners Diversity, sure to provide a breathtaking evening for the whole family to enjoy.

The season kicks off with the first of five fantastic musicals Whistle Down the Wind (26 Apr 01 May) a stunning combination of epic storytelling and multi-award-winning songs which stars chart-topping tenor Jonathan Ansell from X Factor sensation G4. Orphaned pirates, flat-footed policemen and a bevy of blushing beauties follow as the perfect ingredients for a fabulous feast of Gilbert and Sullivan in The Pirates of Penzance (11 15 May) where Paul Nicholas as the Pirate King recreates the role he made famous in this lively comic opera.

Comedy fans will enjoy feel-good musical drama Stepping Out (01 05 Jun)- Guaranteed to raise a smile this funny and heart-warming 25th Anniversary production stars Brian Capron (Coronation Street) and 60's singing sensations Anita Harris. Follow the tale of another singing sensation in brand-new Laughter in the Rain (07 12 Jun) based on the rise, fall and rise again of pop music's ultimate survivor Neil Sedaka.

Rounding up the musical extravaganza is new revival of Rodgers and Hammerstein's classic musical Oklahoma! (29 Jun 03 Jul)starring popular leading lady Marti Webb.

Drama devotees can look forward to a season with something to suit all tastes from Alan Bennett's much-loved wry and tender play The History Boys (17 22 May) to the suspense and intrigue of The Agatha Christie Theatre Company's next instalment in their highly acclaimed series, Witness for the Prosecution (14 19 Jun).

Comedy drama Quartet (26 31 Jul), tells a heartening story of self-discovery and life-long friendships with a star studded cast of Timothy West, Susannah York, Edward Hardwicke and Gwen Taylor.

Sir Peter Hall's Bedroom Farce (12 17 Jul) sees four couples, three bedrooms, two celebrations, one blazing row and an illicit kiss make for an irresistibly funny night in one of Alan Ayckbourn's best loved works.

A dramatic conclusion is brought to you by Clifford Odet's award winning masterpiece The Country Girl (23 28 Aug) starring Martin Shaw and Jenny Seagrove.

Dance fans are in for a treat.

Strictly Come Dancing - The Professionals (05 08 Jul) features the favourite faces of the world champion dancers from the smash-hit BBC TV series while for a different dance style there is Strictly Tap Dance Fever (04 08 May).

Britain's Got Talent winners Diversity (23 & 24 Jul) bring you their unique blend of eye catching routines.

If you're looking for something for the kids join Peppa Pig and friends at Peppa Pig's Party (21 & 22 Jul) a charming show, featuring beautifully true-to-life puppets, brand new songs, muddy puddles and plenty of oinks!

The season is also bursting with one night treats.

Hilarious musical comedy Girls Night (30 May), Jools Holland and his Rhythm and Blues Orchestra (21 Jun) in MK for the first time ever to bring you the ultimate party.

Take in a magical evening of music and laughter with everyone's favourite Diva, Jane Macdonald (19 Jul), or enjoy One Night in Vegas (09 Jul) with Martyn Lucas and the British Philharmonic Orchestra featuring music from Phantom of the Opera, Copacabana and more classics from the likes of Barry Manilow and The King himself! You can even join in yourself with Sing-a-Long-a High School Musical 3 (10 Jul).

General booking for all of these shows is now open.

EASTER-TIME CONCERT

THE MILTON KEYNES CHORALE

Saturday, March 20. 8pm

BACH'S St John Passion will be brought to life by The Milton Keynes Chorale.

A team of soloists and an orchestra of period instrument specialists will join them for this Easter-time concert at the Church of Christ the Cornerstone on Saturday, March 20 at 8pm.

Stuart Dunlop, musical director for The Milton Keynes Chorale, said: "Framed by austerely beautiful choruses of lament, the St John Passion brims with drama. The luminous tragedy of Christ's Passion is imbued with music of beauty, grace and anger."

The performance will be accompanied on instruments that would have been used in Bach's time, played by The Appropriate Orchestra.

Tickets £12 to £15 (concessions £10 to £13, accompanied under 16s for only £1) from 01908 320958, online at www.mkchorale.org.uk or from the church.

Dean Gray from Graymatter

NHS Facebook campaign designed by a local firm

A CREATIVE business is behind one of the most successful Facebook campaigns in the country.

Graymatter, based in Knowlhill, ran a Chlamydia campaign on the social networking site for the NHS.

Founder and managing director Dean Gray said the campaign had three times the usual take up.

He said: "Facebook said that it was one of the most successful homepage ad campaigns they've ever run. We can't pretend that we are not just a little excited by that endorsement."

The 30-strong team is behind the designs for the Celebr8mk parade to be held this summer.

Previous clients include Vauxhall, Mini and BMW, and there are further projects for the Government in the pipeline.

He added: "We have great ambition as a business and we wanted to put our roots down in Milton Keynes because it reflected our own entrepreneurial spirit and vision for growth. And we haven't looked back the business has gone from strength-to-strength and as well as winning local business we have secured a number of high profile national contracts that are waking people up to the fact that there is an MK creative agency building a national reputation."

Gavin Anderson, founder of Celebr8MK, said: "Graymatter is proof that Milton Keynes can produce work that competes on a national level. During my own career I have worked with some of the biggest and best agencies on the planet and Graymatter are right up there with them and right on your doorstep! I am more than pleased they have supported these key projects that will deliver for the communities today and for future generations."

Get your brand closer to people's lives

No other medium is as close to people's hearts as Regional Press. Consumers consider it an integral part of their community.
The effectiveness of regional press advertising in driving sales comes down to the simple fact that people prefer to do most of their spending close to where they live.
Consumers' Choice V, a national consumer survey by TNS Media, found that regional press advertising is the most frequently acted upon, with 61% of people responding to it†.
No wonder brands enjoy a closer relationship with consumers when advertised in this, the most trusted and effective medium of all.

†See Consumers' Choice V at www.newspapersoc.org.uk

Aaron Wilbraham's header bounces of Mark Phillips for MK Dons third goal

Dons Cort short in final minutes

BRENTFORD 3

MK DONS 3

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

AARON Wilbraham reached his half century of goals for MK Dons and when his 51st went in he should have been celebrating victory.

The Dons made the fatal error of thinking the game was already won which cost them two points as ex-Wimbledon striker Carl Cort dragged Brentford level, for the third time, in the 94th minute.

The final ten minutes appear to be Dons' Achilles heal as they have now conceded 13 goals in that time at the expense of 12 points.

And manager Paul Ince was less than impressed to see his side squander the lead on three occasions, especially after losing to the Bees by an 84th minute goal at stadiummk earlier on in the season.

He said: "To lose a goal with the last kick, after what they did to us at our place, we're gutted. When you score in the 92nd minute you think you've got some retribution for that, but we've switched off again.

"Brentford are very good at home, they've only lost twice here all season, so to come here, score three goals and not come away with the three points is very disappointing.

"We've seen enough evidence this season of teams scoring last minute goals against us, in those situations you need characters and you need voices."

It was anything but a six-goal thriller, at best it was a scrappy, cagey affair and it was the mistake of Bees' on-loan Arsenal goalkeeper Wojciech Szczesny that set the tone of the afternoon.

The 19-year-old dropped James Tunnicliffe's long throw in at the feet of Wilbraham who gleefully looped the ball in for his 50th goal in Dons colours.

There was a touch of controversy in Brentford's equaliser as Sam Wood appeared to be offside before firing past Willy Gueret, but Dons were able to regain the lead through Jermaine Easter's penalty which was awarded after Mark Phillips' foul on Luke Chadwick.

When Ben Strevens bundled in the Bees' second 20 minutes from time it set up an exciting end but few could have anticipated the drama of Wilbraham heading in a cross from Tunnicliffe, who has extended his loan by a further month, only for Court, on the pitch for four minutes, to knock in a last minute equaliser.

Ince added: "We took the lead three times and if you do that you should be coming away with the three points."

COMING UP

SOUTHAMPTON
League One
Saturday, March 20
stadiummk KO 3pm

THE Dons will be desperate not to be bullied by Southampton when they meet for the fourth time this season.

So far the Dons have been defeated by the Saints and now they have former Dons wing wizard Jason Puncheon in their armoury they are even more dangerous. Since their ten point deduction at the start of the season Southampton have been climbing up the table and now have their sights set on a late dash for the play-offs.

However, Alan Pardew's side do not travel as well as most would expect as they have only won five times away from home.

Double delight for goalscorer Wilbraham

DOUBLE goalscorer Aaron Wilbraham has been selected for the League One Team of the Week.

Wilbraham's brace in the 3-3 draw at Brentford took his goal tally to nine for the season and 51 to his name in Dons colours.

Team of the Week in full: Mikkel Andersen (Bristol Rovers), Simon Francis (Southend), Darren Ward (Millwall), Gordon Greer (Swindon), Dan Harding (Southampton), Sam Wood (Brentford), Sean Thornton (Leyton Orient), Liam Trotter (Millwall), Kevin Betsy (Wycombe), Steve Morrison (Millwall), Aaron Wilbraham (MK Dons).

Dons highly commended in FL Awards

THE annual Football League Awards took place on Sunday evening and MK Dons were highly commended in the League One Family Club of the Year category.

The Dons were short-listed for the award alongside Huddersfield Town, Norwich City, Southend United and Swindon Town.

It was Huddersfield who took the title but the Dons and Swindon were highly commended by the judges.

Dons midfielder Peter Leven was beaten to the PFA Player in the Community award by Bradford City defender Zesh Rehman.

The awards, which were held at the Grosvenor House in London's Park Lane, also incorporate FourFourTwo's Top 50 Football League Players.

Leeds United striker Jermaine Beckford was voted League One Player of the Year beating Norwich's Wes Hoolahan and Southampton's Rickie Lambert who came second and third respectively.

Dove pleased despite losing

DIRECTOR of youth Mike Dove used MK Dons Under 18s 4-0 defeat to Arsenal as a chance to measure how far his team have come this season.

And despite the heavy defeat by the Gunners Dove was pleased with the lessons his side would have learnt.

He said: "I love games against Academies like Arsenal. From a learning perspective and in terms of the facilities - I'd play games like that every week.

"We knew we would have to work smart, that Arsenal would have clever movement and that technically they'd be very good, but these are the sort of challenges we like our players to come up against.

"We had to work very hard to cope with their movement at times, their midfielders interchanged very freely both in a diamond and moving out wide, but at times we kept the ball extremely well and we had our chances too."

ICE HOCKEY

TONIGHT MK Lightning could move one step closer to their first silverware of the season.

This evening they travel to Guildford Flames for the first leg of the English Premier League Cup.

Any advantage from the first 40 minutes would stand them in great stead for the second leg which takes place a week later at Planet Ice.

Lightning go into the match full of confidence after doubling their lead at the top of the EPL table from four points to eight.

Nick Poole's team thumped local rivals Peterborough Phantoms 7-2 with two goals each from Andre Smulter, Ross Bowers and Adam Brittle, as well as one from Michael Wales. Lightning also picked up a victory against Basingstoke Bison as Wales, Smulter and Adam Carr all found the target in the 3-1 win.

Guildford, who have only won one of the six meetings with Lightning this season, will be desperate to put an end to their run of five straight defeats. The Flames suffered at the hands of Swindon Wildcats on Saturday and were then beaten in overtime by Sheffield Scimitars a day later.

FACE-OFF for the first leg of the final is 8pm. On Saturday they host Swindon Wildcatsface-off 7pm and on Sunday they travel to Slough Jets, face-off 6.30pm.

BOXING

Rocket man thrills sell-out crowd

PROFESSIONAL boxing made its bow at stadiummk with a bang on Saturday evening, with plenty of shocks for the sell-out crowd.

It was the first event of its kind to be held at the MK Dons stadium, but previous professional boxing fights have taken place in Milton Keynes.

Ring legend Graham Earl had been scheduled to fight on the card, but was forced to pull out of his bout due to injury.

However, Earl did put in an appearance to announce his retirement from the sport to concentrate on training and was also in the corner with some of his charges.

Instead it was unbeaten prospect Harry Matthews, who splits his time between Yorkshire and Leighton Buzzard, that was topping the bill and he made it nine wins out of nine with a fifth round stoppage of Terry Carruthers.

Right from the opening bell this fight had all the makings of a small hall classic as the two pugilists went toe-to-toe and let them go.

Carruthers was arguably having the better of the fight in the opening three rounds before Matthews moved things up a gear and started to take advantage of some missed punches by his opponent.

Then in the fifth 'The Rocket' stunned Carruthers with an overhand right to the chin and went looking to end the fight there and then.

Referee Ian John-Lewis had several looks before finally calling a halt to the contest after the bell had sounded for the end of the round.

Leighton Buzzard's 'Rocket' Harry Matthews in action against Terry Carruthers in the blue shorts

Novice Danny Murphy made it two wins from his first two paid bouts after stopping Luton's Gavin Putney early in the fourth round.

The evening began with Biggleswade's Jamie Boness earning a 39-37 points victory over veteran Duncan Cottier in his third pro bout.

That was followed by the shock of the night where Dean Mills defeated former British super featherweight champion Ryan Barrett.

RUGBY

South West 1 East

Marlow 18 Olney 26

OLNEY earned an impressive victory at fourth placed Marlow to move up to ninth in the table.

Olney had expected a tough afternoon of rugby, yet they were the first to score a try and maintained their lead throughout thanks to strong performances across the team.

Wingers Chris Small and Mike Durose shone with two tries a pieces and James Hawken contributed with six points from his boot.

Walcot 32 Bletchley 15

A LACKLUSTRE performance sent Bletchley crashing to defeat in Bath.

Walcot opened up a comfortable lead with an early penalty followed by two converted tries.

George Harman's penalty was the only score of the half for Bletchley, who trailed 17-3 at the break.

The second half looked more promising for Bletchley when Tim Stobbs fell just short of the line, but mistake allowed Walcot to runaway for an unconverted try.

Bletchley kept up the pressure with Tom Hannell diving over for an unconverted try, but further mistakes kept Walcot off the hook.

The visitors then had a man sent to the sin bin which handed Walcot the advantage as they added two more converted tries leaving Adam Griffiths' late try as consolation.

PARALYMPICS

Anna's top ten finish

OLNEY'S Anna Turney was one of Great Britain's three alpine skiers to finish in the top ten finishers on the opening day of Vancouver 2010 Paralympic Games.

The 30-year-old, who started sit-skiing after she broke her back in a snowboarding accident in 2006 and lost the use of her legs, finished in sixth place on Whistler's Creek.

Turney handled difficult conditions well, holding her nerve when several other athletes crashed out of the race.

"I'm really pleased", said Turney, "I'm happy with sixth. In the first run the snow was more challenging so I found the first run harder, but I just fought through it and got to the bottom.

"In the second run I felt I was a lot more fluid and smooth."

Sean Rose finished eighth in the men's slalom while Kelly Gallagher secured a sixth place finish in the women's event.

Turney was due to take part in the women's giant slalom last night.

MOTOR RACING

Vettel's spark plug problem sums up Boorain Grand Prix

IT was almost a dream start to the Formula One season for Red Bull Racing driver Sebastian Vettel, unfortunately the Bahrain Grand Prix proved to be 15 laps too long.

That is because from the green light until the 33rd lap Vettel led the way, and appeared to be withholding the challenge of Fernando Alonso.

But as thoughts of crossing the chequered flag first might have crossed Vettel's mind a problem with the spark plug hit the RB6 and caused him to rapidly lose pace allowing Alonso, Felipe Massa and Lewis Hamilton to pinch a place on the grid.

All in all it proved a frustrating afternoon for the German, he said: "We had control of the race today and we were on top of the strategy everything was running smoothly.

"It seems something mechanical broke, luckily we could continue and finished fourth, but we should have won today. It cost us a lot, but we've got 12 important points."

Finishing in fourth did earn Vettel vital points in what is expected to be one of the most competitive World Championship battles in recent history, while his team mate Mark Webber had to settle for four points from eighth place.

A plume of smoke bellowing from his engine on the opening corner proved to be nothing to worry about for the Aussie in an otherwise quiet Grand Prix.

Webber said: "We definitely learned a lot as a team today. It wasn't the most exciting Grand Prix I've driven following gearboxes all afternoon but the world class drivers who were ahead don't normally make mistakes.

"I tried as hard as I could to make Jenson (Button) and Michael make mistakes, but it wasn't happening. We have a long Championship ahead and the boys are working incredibly hard, we showed last year we can fight, so I'm looking forward to Melbourne."

Webber's home Grand Prix at Melbourne is next Sunday.

Vettel leads the pack early on, only to finish fourth after spark plug problems

Lions' pride dented by eighth straight defeat

MK LIONS 90
GLASGOW ROCKS 119

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

A HEAVY eighth straight league defeat was inflicted on MK Lions by Glasgow Rocks last night.

The Lions, still without the injured EJ Harrison and Mike New, were ripped apart in the opening quarter and never came close to troubling the Rocks lead.

As they went into the final quarter Lions trailed by 37 points and despite outscoring their Scottish opponents by 29 points to 21 in the last ten minutes they were always heading for defeat.

At the weekend Lions were knocked out at the semi-final stage of the BBL Trophy on a 172-148 aggregate score line by Cheshire Jets and beaten by Newcastle Eagles.

Their recent poor form forced captain Dru Spinks to admit the team were bitterly disappointed to exit the Trophy.

He added: "We now need to refocus and look ahead at the task at hand which is to really finish off strong down the remaining stretch of the season.

"This is crucial for us now in order to put ourselves in the best possible position heading into the play-offs."

But that message was not translated to the team as they desperately struggled to keep up with their opponents.

From tip-off the Lions failed to make their baskets as a flurry of shots from Spinks, Robert Youngblood and Yorick Williams rebounded off the basket.

Meanwhile the Rocks bagged an incredible nine three-pointers in the opening quarter with Michael Crowell in stunning form.

The ball bounces off the hoop as MK Lions captain Dru Spinks attempts a basket

The introduction of 20-year-old Craig Pringle gave Lions some fight but they needed a huge comeback if they were going to over turn the 13-41 deficit from the opening ten minutes.

However, as their guests extended their advantage to 31 points at the end of the second, despite Frank Holmes trying to drag Lions back into proceedings on his return from injury, it became a case of damage limitation.

Jessie Sapp led the way for the Rocks with a succession of points allowing them to open up massive 46 point lead.

It was not until the final quarter that Lions showed some fight - keeping the Rocks off the score sheet for three minutes.

Yorick Williams, who had been poor by his own standards, made sure Lions finished with some pride as he took his personal tally for the evening to 22 but it was Sapp's telling contribution of 39 points that led third placed Rocks to an easy victory.

■ LIONS return to Middleton Hall on Tuesday night when Essex Pirates are the visitors. Face-off is at 7.30pm.

Clarke takes bronze

RUNNER Chris Clarke was a shock medallist at the World Indoor Athletics Championships in Dohar, Qatar on Sunday.

The Marshall Milton Keynes Athletics Club member was a surprise selection when he was named in the Great Britain team to run in the men's 4x100 meters.

But it proved to be a great decision by the selectors as Clarke and his team mates, Conrad Williams, Nigel Levine, Richard Buck, went for broke to win bronze at the Championships.

The team, who only managed to scrape into the final, ran the 4x100m in an impressive 3:07.52 minutes and overhauled the Dominican Republic, who were later disqualified, to clinch third place.

The 20-year-old anchored the GB's relay team in the qualifying rounds and moved to the third leg for the final.

A spokesman for MK Athletics Club said: "Chris himself has only just moved up in to the Junior ranks in athletics so to step up the senior level at a World Championships was a major achievement in itself so to come home with a medal is quite extraordinary."

There was not quite the same success for MK's more established athlete Greg Rutherford.

The long jumper failed to make the men's final as his last qualification jump was judged a foul by just a few millimetres.

To report fly tipping, fly posting, abandoned vehicles or graffiti please contact Milton Keynes Council's Environmental Services Helpline.

Did you know that it is also an offence to drop cigarette butts on the floor and leave bags of rubbish or recycling by bins and banks? Flytipping costs us all money, is bad for the environment and can make Milton Keynes look UGLY.

Our 3 Community Recycling Centres (tips) provide a place to take household rubbish and larger items, and we can provide a free bulky waste collection for people who are unable to dispose of their waste and recycling themselves. More information on this is provided inside
